

DISTRIBUTION CENTRES AND LOGISTICS FIT FOR PURPOSE PPE

Distribution centres and warehouses are ripe with safety hazards. Walking and standing for long hours puts pressure on the heel and ball of the foot, causing musculoskeletal injuries in the long term.

To ensure comfort, safety footwear should have shock-absorbing properties and fit well to avoid knees, hips and lower back from experiencing abnormal movement and load.

Suitable hand protection that protects against abrasion and from cuts, combined with excellent grip to facilitate handling and lifting, is a must. By selecting a glove that provides dexterity and touchscreen capability, you will in addition have a positive impact on efficiency.

For those employees working on elevated platforms, a reliable fall protection solution, which does not hinder the job in hand or impact productivity, is required.

Comfortable, breathable materials help maintain operators' wellbeing in a hot environment. By selecting ergonomically designed personal protective equipment and taking additional features into consideration, you can optimize your worker's safety, wellbeing, efficiency and performance.
